BRITISH COLUMBIA FASHION WEEK

SPRING 2007 - SEPTEMBER 26 - OCTOBER 1

SPOTTED REVIEWS

FARLEY FLEX OF CANADIAN IDOL DESCRIBES HIS PERSONAL STYLE

"I can consider my style 'urban corporate' I have a distinct opinion on what corporate male dress is and it definitely wasn't designed with black men in mind. So I've redefined it on my own and I wear colours that complement my complexion and I think my complexion complement colours so it's a symbiotic relationship. Today I am wearing an original Farley Flex this is all my stuff except for the shoes and the jeans. All the clothes I wear on Canadian Idol I co-design with Pat Bernardo."

EVAN & DEAN TELL US WHERE THEY LIKE TO SHOP AND ABOUT THEIR FAVOURITE DISCO MOMENTS.

LYLE'S FAVORITE DISCO MOMENT: My mom coming back from Louisiana and sporting an Afro

WHERE THEY LIKE TO SHOP:

Costco, because we eat too much, at least Raymond does! All we do is buy fabric so we shop for fabric in LA. If we could shop at any store with an unlimited budget it would be Holt Renfrew and Neiman Marcus

LELA DESIGNS

"I THOUGHT IT WAS A REALLY GREAT SHOW. I AM A GOLFER MYSELF SO IT'S REALLY PRACTICAL WEAR I WOULD USE"
-Anonymous

"THESE LADIES HAVE A FULL VISION OF WHERE THEY WANT TO BE AND WHERE THEY WANT TO REPRESENT."
- Farley Flex

"I THOUGHT IT WAS BRILLIANT. I LIKED THE RANGE OF TANK TOPS, ARGYLE SHAPES AND THE ¾ LENGTH PANTS. IT REMINDS MY VERY MUCH OF PRINGLE. I DON'T THINK IT'S VERY VANCOUVER OR CANADIAN IN ANYWAY BUT I COULD VERY WELL SEE IT IN EUROPE AND JAPAN."
-Caius Olowu

WANNY TANG

Sportswear has never looked hotter for Spring 07. Wanny Tang designed a great collection of modern sportswear you can wear on and off the court. We can't wait to strut our stuff on the seawall in her designs!

Check out more of her designs at wannytang.com

KULPA

We couldn't have been more excited to see a collection as sleek, minimal, and sexy as Joanna Kulpa's on Saturday night. The Kulpa palette was a blend of matte and shiny neutrals and a subdued tie-dye pattern thrown in the mix. The silhouettes were classic: bias cut dresses, a-line skirts, and belted cotton tops – all with gorgeous contemporary details, like the simple leather and ribbon belts or the tucks at the hem. Everything was tailored to show just the right amount of skin. They said it was a sophisticated collection for spring/summer '07 – we say it's timeless.

TEE TIME ANYONE?

Could there be anymore reason to start taking golfing lessons? This collection was great. It's time we see more figure flattering cuts on the green even if we are just standing around and watching. We loved the tops, the pants oh and especially the shoes!

MISSED OUT

CAIUS OLOWU TELLS US WHAT HE MISSED OUT ON DURING THE DISCO ERA AND HIS THOUGHTS ON BC FASHION WEEK.

ON DISCO:

"One thing I missed, because I was too young at the time was the rollerskating disco period and that's in revival right now especially in America."

ON BCFW:

"I think it's brilliant, it was more than I expected, with the runway and the collection."

WHO'S THAT GIRL?

BEST THREADS

From Anna Sui to the streets this grade ten fashionista is inspired by everything that surrounds her. Take that skirt for instance, it's really a babies dress that she pulled down to make something functional for herself, how innovative! She's smart, she's an actress and she looks good in everything. As Whitney Houston sings, "teach them well and let them lead the way."

Alexandra Collins is almost 17 years old and quickly becoming a veteran model for BCFW. Spring/Summer 2007 marks it as her third season walking the runway. She's rocking' the scene in 9 of the shows and copped the spread in the BCFW Program Guide. This Burnaby girl has met Goldie Hawn and shot a commercial for Burger King with a real live grizzly bear through her line of work. Alex is gonna turn up the heat as she heads down to Miami to do the whole Next Top Model thing minus the rolling cameras and the drama.

LASTNIGHT

An Ion showdown represents the prototype lifestyle of Oscar Wilde meets the Beatles. And that's exactly the kind of demeanor we saw at Beaumont Galleries. Ion partygoers came literate (fashionably literate, from vintage to urban funk inspired) and with a flare to party like a rock star! This party wasn't segregated either and it wasn't because of the crowded hallways Beaumont made available to us but rather prestigious editors and designers were interlocking with just about anyone willing to have a good time!
